

Live Smart. Live Well.

You're looking for value. You're looking for quality. And if you think building responsibly also is important, you're looking for On Top of the World Communities.

We have built more ENERGY STAR™-rated homes than any other community in the country, providing people with homes that save money now ... and far into the future.

In fact, virtually every home in our community's new residential lineup provides optional solar energy that can save up to 75 percent on monthly power bills.

But more than living smart, our home buyers live well. Our spacious homes are in an award-winning community recognized by Where to Retire magazine as one of "America's 100 Best Master-Planned Communities."

Recreation ... including 54 holes of golf ... education, entertainment and livable, intelligent home designs. It's all here and it's what you've always wanted.
