

Winter is on the way. Reduce energy costs. Increase comfort.

LIPA's Home Performance with ENERGY STAR®

It starts with a home energy audit. Performed by a participating LIPA contractor accredited by the Building Performance Institute, this comprehensive assessment takes a "whole house" approach, assessing your heating and cooling systems; air leakage through windows and doors; insulation; and more. Following the assessment, your LIPA contractor will discuss efficiency improvements, costs, and estimated annual energy savings. If you have central air conditioning you may also qualify for LIPA's Home Performance Direct program. This special program offers high energy use homeowners a FREE energy audit, FREE CFLs, and FREE attic and duct sealing.

LIPA efficiency rebates up to $4,000

Now through December 31, 2011, LIPA is offering customers with central air conditioning or through-wall air conditioners enhanced rebates of up to 50% of project costs – to a maximum of $4,000 - for qualifying home improvement measures performed by a LIPA contractor. With FREE audits and low interest financing available through NY State's Green Jobs/Green NY loan program (www.energyfinancesolutions.com), combined with LIPA rebates, creating a more energy efficient home has never been more affordable. Federal tax credits for 2011 may also apply.
